"Belief in these," said Mr. Peters, "is the fundamental requisite to membership. Knights of Reciprocity are not confined to any political organization, and are not subected to political tests. Every citizen of the United States over eighteen years of age, male and female, is eligible to membership. The officers are supreme judge, treasurer, marshal, supreme clerk, supreme treasurer, and supreme outer and inner baliff. The sub-lodges have their similar local officers. The first lodge was instituted on Nov. 26, at Garden City, Kan. Now there are in the neighborhood of five hundred lodges, principally in Kansas, but scattered also through Nebraska, Missouri and Colorado. The organization is friendly to Mr. Blaine, of course, in so far as his ideas on reciprocity agree with those of the organization. But this is no side-show for any individual. When we formed the organization in Kansas it was intended simply as a State society, and its founders had no idea that it would extend beyond the limits of the State, but the attractive name, Knights of Reciprocity, together with the treaty with Brazil recently made, and the prospects of further treaties with other South American nations, has given the organization a national boom. The leaders of the movement in Kansas are most Republicans. They are advanced thinkers, and such, you know, chiefly belong to the Republican party. But a member of any party who is n favor of reciprocity, and is not an abso-ute free trader, is eligible. There is nothng in our rules or by-laws requiring politcal action."

Municipal Candidates at Chicago,

CHICAGO, March 8.—Before either the Democrats or Republicans have held a convention, two candidates for the mayoralty of Chicago are already nominated. Last night the citizens' committee held a meeting and voted a nomination to Franklin MacVeagh, a well-known merchant. About the same hour a convention of the Socialistic Labor party made Thomas J. Morgan, the locally-noted agitator, their nominee. The Socialists, for the first time in many years, also put up a full list of candidates for other city and town officers. It is quite possible that, in addition to the Citizens' and Socialists' and the regular Democratic and Republican candidates, one or two Independent mayoralty candidates may run. The honor of being the chief municithe inaugural cere of the world's fair is a leading factor in making the struggle so unusually many-

MYSTERIOUS SUICIDE.

A Mason Who Took His Own Life After a Singular Interview with a Priest.

Toledo, O., March 8.—There is considerble excitement in Toledo to-night over the mysterious suicide of a well-dressed stranger in the best hotel in town last night. On Friday night a young man registered at the Boody House as Charles J. Edwards, but gave no place of residence. About 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, Father F. Quigley, a prominent Catholic priest, called up the Boody House and asked if Edwards was there, receiving an affirmative reply. Later he called upon the chief of police and notified him he feared Edwards intended to commit suicide. The chief promptly investigated, had a bellboy climb over the transom and open the door. On going in they found the man dead. On a stand near by were six ounces vials of laudanum, one vial of aconite, one of aqueous extract of opium and one of prussic acid. In the grate were found the ashes of burned letters, and an examination revealed the fact that everything that might reveal the suicide's identity had been destroyed, except a much-worn gold ring with the initials "M. N. C."

Father Quigley says the man came to his parsonage on Friday evening, at 7 o'clock, and asked to see Father Quigley. The Father took the man into his parlor. Edwards shifted himself on his chair, so he could reach his hip pocket, and exclaimed: "Doctor, I have come to Toledo to commit

Father Quigley, who is a man of splendid physique, over six feet tall, reached forward with one hand and cried: "Stop! Would you shed your neighbor's blood, and on Friday, the day on which the Redeemer gave up his blood for mankind?"

Father Quigley says he then expostulated with the man, who finally said: "Well, my mind is made up; I will take my own life.' The priest finally obtained from Edwards a promise that he would not commit suicide for twenty-four hours. Father Quigley says he believes the man came to murder him, and when asked why Edwards should want to kill him, replied: "You noticed the newspapers this morning said the suicide wore a masonic emblem? This was said in a significant tone and recalled a highly-sensational sermon preached by Father Quigley about a year ago, when he claimed the Freemasons had sent a man to kill him. He said the man came at that time and wanted to stab him. Although he gave Quigley his name as Charles J. Edwards, of Buffalo, he subsequently said he had willfully misinformed

The suicide has not yet been identified. He was a fairly good-looking man, about twenty-four or twenty-five years of age, five feet six inches in height, weighed about 145 pounds, light complexion, blue eyes, dark-brown curly hair, straight nose and regular teeth. He was tastefully attired in a dark coat and vest, lightly striped grav trousers and neat patent-leather shoes. with dark brown overcoat. In his trousers-pocket was a silver hunting-case watch and on each of his hands a solid plain gold ring. In his pocket was $48.55 in cash. He wore a pair of goldbowed spectacles, and on the lapel of his vest was pinned a small Masonic badge with the square and compass of a master Mason. He was intelligent in appearance, and showed himself while about the hotel to be a man of education and good breeding. His clothes are of stylish cut, even to his underclothing, which is of an expensive order. The marks on his laundry are

An Abused Wife Shoots Her Husband. CHICAGO, March 8,-Driven to desperation by constant abuse the wife of a salesman named Henry Aiken attempted to kill her husband this morning by shooting him in the head. Aiken came home drunk and began quarreling. He seized his wife and was choking her as usual. She had prepared herself for just such an incident, and, jerking a revolver from her pocket, fired it oint blank in his face. Their three small children screamed with fright, and the police, running in, placed both husband and wife under arrest. Aiken will recover, but will be noseless, and will bear a scar four inches long across his cheeks. Chicago's Kidnaped Widow.

CHICAGO, March 8 .- Mrs. Tillie Mowry, the young woman who was kidnaped Saturday and taken to Packwaukee, Wis., was heard from to-day. Her father received a telegram purporting to be from the sheriff at Portage. Wis., saying that he had the young woman in his protection and that she had been illegally, arrested. No reference is made to Secord, her first husband, who, it was suspected, might have caused the didnaping.

A Priest Perishes from Exposure. WINNIPEG, Man., March 8.-A Regina dis-

One Man Compelled to Eat Paper and Two Injured by Flying Bullets-Latest Developments in the Monte Carlo Tragedy.

AT WAR AGAIN.

Irish Factions Come Together—McCarthyltes Compelled to Eat Paper. LONDON, March 8.—This has been a great day in Ireland. Parnellites and anti-Parnellites have held numerous meetings, attended with broken heads and other symptoms of ill feeling. Parnell's meeting at Newry was a grand affair in point of numbers and enthusiasm. Notwithstanding the virtual prohibition of the bishop from attendance at the demonstrations and the bitter denunciation of Parnell by the clergy, not less than 5,000 persons were present from the town and the country round about. The Mc-Carthyites, with the aid of the priests, tried to hold a counter demonstration, but it amounted to very little. Mr. Parnell bitterly denounced the interference of the clergy, and spoke hopefully of Ireland's prospects for genuine home rule. He asserted that Irishmen must depend on themselves and not on England for bringing about the accom-plishment of national government for Ireland. His utterances were loudly cheered. A McCarthyite in the rear of the crowd, who shouted out something derogatory to Parnall and waved a copy of the bishop's pastoral, was immediately attacked. He sought safety in flight, but was pursued and captured by a party of Parnellites, who compelled him to kneel down and eat the paper on which the pastoral was printed. Parnell's journey to Newry was attended with popular acclamation everywhere, except at Dundalk, where an unfriendly demon-stration prevented him from addressing the people. At other places he made short speeches. At Newry he said that he was confident that Ulster was sound for him as other provinces of Ireland were, and he referred to the significance of deputations being present from different districts where every means had been employed to stifle public opinion. severely criticised McCarthy for having traduced the memory of John Mitchel, the Irish patriot. Numerous league addresses were presented, and an open-air meeting which followed passed resolutions strongly expressing confidence in Parnell. Mr. Parnell reminded his hearers that the Liberals had been as active coercionists as the other party.

Messrs. Lane and Maurice Healy, members of Parliament, went to Middleton today to address an anti-Parnellite meeting. On arrival they were received by the town commissioners. Outside of the station a large crowd hooted at the visitors and a band which had been engaged to escort them to the town refused to play, but followed mute. The subsequent meeting, however, was a success, being attended by contingents from every parish in Cork, headed by priests. Canon Keller supported the meeting. and Messrs. Lane and Healey sccured a hearty reception. It was announced that Canon Keller would soon start for America on behalf of the evicted tenants. The feeling in Middleton is shown by the fact that the material required for the construction of the platform for to-day's anti-Parnellite meeting had to be brought from a place six miles outside the town, the local builders refusing to do the work. While a Belfast contingent returning from the Newry meeting was passing Tandragee Station, two shots were fired from a carriage, wounding two persons seriously. The occupants of the carriage were detained at Belfast. No weapon was found upon any of them.

THE MONTE CARLO TRAGEDY.

Dr. Leiderman Thought to Have Been Decoyed to Death by an Alleged Countess. LONDON, March 8 .- Further facts have come to light regarding the alleged murder of Dr. Leiderman, whose body was found in a ravine near San Remo and who was at first supposed either to have committed suicide or to have fallen by accident down the ravine. Dr. Leidermann was a German and tormerly resided in Manchester. In December last he engaged quarters at the National Hotel San Remo, and paid frequent visits to Monte Carlo. Subsequently two Germans joined the Doctor at the hotel, and all three departed together by rail on Dec. 29. On the evening of the same day the two Germans returned to the hotel without Leiderman. In response to inquiries they explained that Leiderman had suddenly become insane and had been placed in confinement in an asylum at Nice. That night the two Germans left the hotel without having given notice of their departure. The body of Dr. Leiderman was afterwards found as described. The spine of the murdered man was broken and the body punctured by a pin, similar to those used for pricking cards at the gaining tables at Monte Carlo. The pockthe dead man had It was evidently intention of the murderer to give the idea that the deceased had been ruined by gambling at Monte Carlo, and that in desperation he committed suicide. After fruitless attempts to unravel the mystery the San Remo police sent a photograph of the dead man to the officials at Monte Carlo. The police of Monte Carlo remembered having seen the deceased gambling in company with a reputed Polish countess and her German paramour, and the woman and her companion were arrested and sent to San Remo. The theory of the police is that the al leged countess decoyed the unfortunate Doctor to her room where he suffered a Trying to Arrange a Match Between Prince Clarence and Princess Margarettie.

LONDON, March 8 .- Queen Victoria and Empress Frederick are trying to arrange a marriage between the oldest son of the Prince of Wales and Princess Margarettie of Prussia. The young lady is the youngest child and fourth daughter of the ex-Empress Frederick, whom she accompanies on her present visit. She is consequently the sister of Emperor William and first cousin of her probable fiance. She was born April 22, 1872, at the Royal Palace at Potsdam, and is consequently in her twentieth year. Her full name is Margarettie Beatrix Feodlia. She is rarely good looking and blessed with the placid and even temperament of the Guelphs. The youngest daughter, she has always been the pet of the imperial household, and the marriage, if arranged, will cement more closely the relations between the two nations.

Jealous of Favors Shown Foreigners. LONDON, March 8 .- Queen Victoria's liking for her German relatives is causing a good deal of discontent in England, where there is a profound sentiment that the honors and emoluments lavished on the alien princelings had better be bestowed on natives of Great Britain. Prince Henry of Battenburg, who masquerades as the Governor of the Isle of Wight, and really acts as messenger to run errands for his royal mother-in-law, is said to have been grossly insulted, as he calls it, at a place called Calbourne, on the island. The insult consisted in the almost total ignoring of Battenburg and his pretensions at the local celebration, to which he invited himself, without being accompanied by the Princess Beatrice.

Did Not Enforce the Anti-Gambling Law. Paris, March 8.—Owing to heavy rains the race course at Auteuil early in the day was almost deserted. In the afternoon a few hundred onlookers were present, chiefly engaged in watching the movements of the large force of police on the ground. Only a few racing men were present at the weighing-in. A number of book-makers entered bets without being interfered with by the police. While the races proceeded there were isolated cries of "Down with Constans," but otherwise there was no dis-order. Two persons who made themselves especially prominent by their denuncia-tions of the Minister of the Interior were placed under arrest. The police appeared to be acting under orders to enforce the new anti-gambling regulations in a mild manner, and a report is current that betting in various forms will again be allowed by the authorities. At the track, to-day, there were no Paris mutual operations. There were hardly a thousand spectators present at any time during the day. The Temps learns that the government will reconsider the whole question of betting on horse-races.

Unnecessary Bravado of a Spanish Newspaper, MADRID, March 8.-The Heraldo, in an article protesting against a supposed scheme of the United States government to annex the island of Cuba, says Mr. Blaine ought to recollect that the Congress of American nations plainly proved that Spanish-Americans are not disposed to allow themselves to be absorbed by the great Northern Republic. The people of Cuba, it says, are strongly Spanish and are equally opposed to becoming a part of the United States. Probably, with the exception of a few tradesmen, there is no one in the island who is at all desirous of annexation. Spain, the Heraldo continues, would shed her last drop of blood in resisting any attempt to deprive her of her colony, fearing neither a Cuban revolution nor a war with the United States. the United States.

Bismarck's Opportunity. LONDON, March 8.—Berlin advices state that Bismarck's presence in the Reichstag is contidently anticipated. The London Times frankly advises the Prince, in a recent article, to enter the Reichstag if he wishes to express his opinion plainly on affairs of state, instead of using the columns of newspapers which he is supposed to control, but for whose utterances he does not assume open responsibility. The Prince, it is said, now seriously considers the acceptance of the latest offer made to him for Gesterninde, in Hanover, and it is expected that he will accept it. The Bismarckian policy is evidently regaining something of its strength in Germany, and the Prince could not enter the Reichstag at a more favorable time to himself.

Bodies of a Murdered Couple Eaten by Dogs. Paris, March 8.—The story of a terrible double murder comes from Tours. About a week ago a wealthy aged couple named Delhomais, residing in that city, mysteriously disappeared, and their neighbors, thinking there was something wrong, notified the police, who forced the doors of the old couple's bouse, when the discovery was made that a horrible crime had been committed. Both the man and his wife had been brutally murdered, and the house stripped of everything of value that could be conveniently carried away. The bodies of the aged victims presented a ghastly appearance, the household dogs having been driven by hunger to feed upon the bodies, large portions of which had been devoured by the animals. No arrests have as yet

The Argentine Financial Crisis Over. BUENOS AYRES, March 8.—The panic in financial circles is over and business will be resumed to-morrow. The feeling in the gold market is more quiet and confidence is restored. A number of prominent merchants and bankers met at the government house and appointed a committee to decide upon the question whether it would be more advisable for the government to issue gold notes or a loan. The committee decided in favor of a loan, to which the banks offer to subscribe $9,000,000. The government has decided to issue a loan of 100,000,000 plastres at 6 per cent. interest. Subscriptions will open to-morrow. The issue price will be 75.

Ex-Empress Engenie. LONDON, March 8.—The ex-Empress Eugenie is reported to be in a very bad condition physically and little more than wreck mentally. There is no allegation of insanity, but her unfriendly reception in Paris, when she was at first mistaken for the Empress Frederick, and afterward insulted as soon as her identity became known, was a great shock to her. She has lost all traces of her former attractions, and has ceased even to cover the ravages of time with cosmetics. To the better class of Frenchmen she is an object of pity if not of sympathy, but the mob seldom lose an opportunity to show their batred.

Condition of Prince Napoleon,

ROME, March 8.—The condition of Prince Napoleon is unchanged. All the members of his family, with the exception of Prince Victor, are hurrying to Rome. Prince Victor intends to make submission to the only condition on which his father consents to receive him. Cardinal Bonaparte and Mermillon are in attendance upon the Prince, but they refrain from asking him to become reconciled with the church.

Singular Story Told by a Spanish Priest in a Letter to an American Bank.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 8,-The First National Bank of Pittston has received a letter from Spain signed by a priest, stating that a vast sum of money is buried somewhere in this vicinity. The letter says one of the most favored of the courtiers of King Alphonso was given a large sum of money, said to be a million francs, while the King was on his death-bed, in return for the performance of a dying wish. The Queen was jealous of the courtier, and at the King's death instructed her embassador to arrest the courtier for stealing a casket containing a number of jewels from the palace. He fled to America and buried his treasure. returned to Spain and was where he died. The plans of the place where the treasure was buried were in a satchel which was taken by the tribunal, which, not knowing of the contents, offered to dismiss the suit on payment of costs. The priest asks for money to pay the costs and obtain the satchel and plans.

The Bowmanites and Their Opponents. READING, Pa., March 8.—The trustees of the Sixth-street Evangelical Church this morning refused Rev. A. H. Krecker, the Bowman representative, permission to enter the pulpit, and Rev. J. H. Shirey, anti-Bowman, was accepted as the pastor. Rev. Krecker and over one hundred of his followers filed out of the church in body and worshiped in the Hebrew Temple. The injunction issued by the court yesterday against Rev. A. Kresage, the Bowman pastor, restraining him and his followers from interfering with Rev. E. P. Lehr, anti-Bowman, had the effect of keeping Kresage and his party away, and Rev. Lehr held undisputed possession. At Johnsville, this county, Rev. Jos. Sprecht, anti-Bowman, was refused admission to the pulpit by the trustees and Rev. D. B. Albright, Bowman preacher, was received as the pastor. At several churches in Read-

INDIANA. The Jeffries-Hubbard Fight Awarded to the Former on a Foul.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, March 8.—The fight between Tommy Hubbard and Ed Jeffries, light weights, was begun at 12 o'clock last night at the Olympic Theater, in this city, in the presence of three hundred spectators and, much to every one's surprise, without police interference. The affair was advertised as a sparing exhibition, and it was such between several local amateurs until Hubbard and Jeffries entered the ring. From that time on the exhibition resolved itself into an old fashioned mill. The fight was awarded to Jeffries in the third round on a foul. Hubbard got Jeffries's head in chancery, and then dashed it against the brick wall in the rear of the stage. Honors were about even until this round. Jeffries secured the first knock down and Hubbard first blood from Jeffries's nose by a straight blow in the second round. Eight-ounce gloves were used. A purse of $50 and the door receipts were awarded to the winner. "Kid" Lloyd, light-weight champion of the State, seconded Hubbard, while William Alcock, light-weight champion of England, was behind Jeffries. Dick Collier, middle-weight champion of England, was referee, while Orian R. Munger, late of Washington C. H., O., and ex-captain in the Salva-tion Army, officiated as time-keeper. Much dissatisfaction was expressed over the decision of the referee, and the affair came Municipal Tangle at Columbus. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

COLUMBUS, March 8.-For two years prior to 1889 the streets of this city were furnished with light by the Citizens' Electriclight Company. The Council, during this time, began to look about with a view of purchasing a plant of its own, which it proposed to run in connection with the city water-works. As the city was indebted to an amount equal to 2 per cent. of all its taxables, some heavy tax-payers filed in the Circuit Court an injunction against the purchase of a new plant and the further increasing of the city's indebtedness. This checked proceedings for a time, but the Council showed fight and to carry their point it was necessary for the finance committee to make a showing under the law that the indebtedness of the city was less than 2 per centum of all the taxable property, or that there would be in the hands of the city treasurer at the time the purchase would become due an amount of money that would enable it to pay for the purchase thus made. Judge New, of Vernon, was called to hear the case. Upon this trial the city, through finance committee, showed by affidavits and evidence introduced that there would be ample funds in the hands of the treasurer with which to meet the new indebtedness, and the injunction suit failed and the purchase was made. A large portion of this indebtedness has not yet been paid, and at the last meeting of the City Council $2,000 was borrowed with which to pay the running expenses of the city government. Some of the persons who were instrumental in bringing the injunction suit, together with others, are now engaged in an effort to renew the old suit and prevent the further expenditure of money unlawfully. This action has grown out of the investigation of the water-works trustee's books now in progress by the City Council's special committee. Much bad feeling has been ingendered, and several lawsuits will likely follow.

Death and Funeral of an Industrious German.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, March 8.—The funeral of the late John Werner, which took place here to-day, was the largest in this city for ten years. The deceased came to this city from Germany when but eighteen years of age, which was forty years ago. He had but little money, and engaged in the butchering business and acquired a fortune. He was a hard worker, and taught all about him to be industrious. With his first earnings he purchased a tract of land near the city and a few days before his death he sold a small part of it for $30,000. Death came of heart disease while alone and when he was in the act of retiring. In August last his wife died of heart disease and on the same day he was stricken with paralysis and remained unconscious for two weeks. The father, mother, two sisters and a brother of his wife all died with heart dis-

Moore, for eight years a passenger engineer on the Chicago & Erie railway, met with a fatal accident last night, at Hammond, coming from Chicago. He jumped off his engine at the Hammond depot for orders, and slipped and fell under the wheels, which cut off his legs and an arm. He died this morning at 9 o'clock. He came here from Fredonia, N. Y., and leaves a wife and two children. He was highly esteemed, and was a prominent member of the brotherhood. The body will be taken to Fredonia Monday afternoon for interment.

Settled with Their Creditors. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENSBURG, March 8.-Three farmers who made assignments several days ago have settled with their creditors and are released. Straughter Pleak paid out in full, and has a very good farm left. James A. Meek and his brother, John W. Meek, were not able to do so well, and have settled at 40 cents on the dollar. The flurry caused by the several assignments about the same time is now over, and business has settled down into the regular channels. With a good crop in prospect, every one feels more hopeful for the future in this county.

Fire Started by Mice.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. GREENSBURG, March 8 .- About last midnight a fire was discovered in Littell Bros. grocery store on Main street and a very serious conflagration was narrowly averted. As it is the grocery stock is seriously damaged by fire, smoke and water. The office of the Prohibocrat, a weekly paper, just above, narrowly escaped destruction. The fire, no doubt, was started by a mouse nibbling a match, as where the matches were kept was the seat of the fire. Insured in the Phœnix of Hartford.

The Hearst Funeral Train.

CHICAGO, March 8.—The special train conveying the remains of the late Senator Hearst arrived in Chicago to-night, en route from Washington to San Francisco. Only a few moments' stop was made in the Pennsylvania depot, and the remainder of the time that the funeral train was in Chicago was chiefly occupied in the complicated switching necessary to transfer the train unbroken to the tracks of the Chicago & Northwestern. The cars, at the special request of the Senator's family, bore no outward token of mourning, and few persons in either railway station were aware of the passing of the distinguished dead. The start from Chicago to San Francisco was made at 11 P. M.

THE CENTER OF POPULATION.

Greensburg Is Properly Elated, but Not Unduly Proud, Over Its Distinction.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal:

In census bulletin No. 34, issued by the Department of the Interior, on the great subject of the center of population of this glorious country, may be found this statement: "It rests now in southern Indiana. at a point a little west of south of Greensburg, the county-seat of Decatur county." It would seem that the government, to avoid the jealousy and heart-burnings of neighboring towns and cities, inserted in the bulletin the words "a little west." But it is very manifest to any thinking and reflecting mind that the center of population cannot be in an open field, or in the woods, where nobody lives, The Secretary of the Interior and the Superintendent of the Census, unfortunately for both, never lived in Greensburg, and can know but little of the high, broad and generous character of our people. So, in undertaking to take the center a little west of us, many have supposed that our people, if they told the whole truth, would put on airs and be exalted and arrogant toward their neighbors. But, being an old citizen of this great center. I have taken pains to talk with the leading and thoughtful citizens, and the overwhelming consersus of opinion is that the other less fortunate people of the United States may approach them with the same freedom as hitherto, and they join me in saying to mankind in general and our neighboring towns in particular, that Greensburg will still have social and commercial intercourse with the rest of mankind, and no great embarrassment need be felt by other people when they meet us at home or abroad. It is true that we are entirely conscious that the eyes of the Nation are upon us. Those living outside of this great central point, and those who are abiding out on the edges may be burning with envy, and their eyes may become green with jealousy, but, from my long acquaintance with our people I assert with confidence that they will conduct themselves as heretofore and will continue to be a reasonably sure guide to all ontsiders in regulating the manners and customs of the American people. And if that deference is paid us that legitimately belongs to us in our highly favored position we may consent, in ten years from now, to allow the center to be moved west on the thirty-ninth parallel of latitude to the city that has excelled all others in her courtesy to Greensburg. We have worked for a half century to attain a national fame and we have won. Pardon our pride of the victory. It may be when the conthat there may be such a rush to come and abide with us that the center will remain with us forever. We will enjoy the honor for a decade at all events. Come and see
